Test of City's Sign Law in Court Again

Constitutionality of Ordinance to be Argued Tomorrow

Sign ordinance controversy will return to court tomorrow when Superior court Judge O. K. Morton will hear arguments relative to constitutionality of the law, and which court has jurisdiction.

City of Palm Springs, represented by City Attorney Jerry Bunker, won the first round in Judge Eugene Theriault's justice court.

An appeal was filed by James and Mary Carlin, owners of El Tram Hotel, defendants, and a writ of prohibition was secured which prevented further action in justice court until the appeal had been heard in Superior court.

The sign which caused all the controversy, a $450 for 2 rate sign, has been covered pending outcome of the legal battle.

Miers to Appear Again Tomorrow in Court at Indio

Interest of Village residents will return to Superior court in Indio tomorrow, when Robert and Michael Elizabeth Miers for the third time will appear for preliminary action in their trial.

The Miers' are charged with murder and robbery in an indictment handed down by the Riverside county grand jury following the slaying of Donald E. "Dutch" Graham, city building inspector.

Main interest of spectators at the hearing, and a capacity crowd is assured, will be directed at a motion made by Deputy Public Defender John Carroll to dismiss the charges against Mrs. Miers.

The motion was made September 26, and Judge Hilton McCabe at that time set 2 p.m., October 7, as the time for hearing arguments pro and con.

A continuance was also granted Carroll on the entering of a plea for Robert Miers.

Supervisor Legg Indicted for Perjury
LOS ANGELES (UP)—The county grand jury today returned an indictment against County Supervisor Herbert C. Legg, charging he perjured himself in testimony during the rubbish scandal probe. Legg, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, was indicted on one count, stemming from his statement to the jury that he never knew Andrew V. Hohn, a wealthy South Gate garbage collector.

Hotel Operators Planning to Make Stay Here Lots of Fun

Hundreds of hotel and resort operators attending the 44th convention of the California State Hotel Association here next month will have plenty of time to "have fun in the sun."

This was assured today following a meeting of association convention leaders at the Oasis Hotel, convention headquarters, as conclave plans were whipped into shape.

It was decided that business sessions of the convention will be limited to a total of six hours during the November 6-9 dates of the meeting, to which hotel and resort operators from 11 western states have been invited.

METING HERE were Harold J. Smith of the Carillo Hotel, Santa Barbara, convention chairman; Dewey Metzger of the Oasis; and Frank Bogert of El Mirador, the vice chairman; Eddie Davidson of Casitas Del Monte, housing chairman, and

JUNIOR CHAMBER HURLS CHALLENGE AT SENIORS

The game is on! This is the exciting news which has been passing through the Village today.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has challenged the Senior Chamber to another game of softball, and the wordage of the dare left no choice but acceptance.

Insults filled two letters, one from Henry V. Cleary to the Senior Chamber, and the other a reply from Jim Morton, who will captain the team of "9-old-men" (his own quote).

THE GAME will be played at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, October 28, at the Polo Grounds, as a benefit for Mickey Finn's Boys Ranch.

Admission last year was a can of food. No decision has been made to date as to the admission this year.

Only spectators at the 1954 game and excitement which prevailed. The Senior Chamber was the winner 9 to 8, but victory cost many hours of sleep due to lameness of seldom used muscles.

THE GAME FEATURED the play of Ralph Kiner, star Cleveland Indians outfielder, who hit a home run the first and only time at bat, and Phil Harris, who comedied around the bases in his usual manner. The challenge and reply denoted the comedy which will follow on October 28.

Cleary wrote: "Although as man grows older each passing year leaves an ever increasing mark of deterioration on the individual, it is hoped that your organization will be able to muster its forces and field a team which, this year, will give able opposition to the team of the J.C.s. Should you, among your own members, be unable to find nine men of sufficient

Civic Leaders Seek Action on Picket Activity

Civic leaders, prominent businessmen and hotel owners representing a wide cross section of commercial life in Palm Springs are planning to call today, as a group, on City Manager Robert W. Peterson, at his office, to insist, it is understood, "that something be done about police regulation of union pickets in Palm Springs."

The plan to call upon the city manager was determined at a meeting last night. A policeman said that they want some "starch" put into effect in order to keep pickets from crowding almost into the doorways of the two establishments that are now being picketed.

Sonny Tufts Denies Charge of Hitting Girl

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Actor Sonny Tufts has denied charges made in a suit for $10,000 damages that he struck and beat a 22-year-old girl in a restaurant last July 17.

Adelene Forman, North Hollywood, charged in the suit that Tufts struck, beat and bruised her at a Studio City restaurant. Tufts, in an answer to the complaint, yesterday denied all charges.

DAVIDSON SAID the reservations are "coming in fast," and that it appears the meeting will be one of the most successful in the many years of association history.

Bogert said that "some of the finest entertainment" available will be presented at the association's annual banquet at El Mirador. Other events will be the annual cocktail party at the Oasis, a barbecue at the Biltmore, a fashion show and luncheon for ladies at the Tennis Club and business meetings at the Plaza theater.

Nixon to Visit Ike Saturday in Conference

Just a Friendly Call, No Political Problems in Agenda

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press Staff Writer

DENVER (UP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon will fly to Denver Saturday for a face to face bedside conference with President Eisenhower, the temporary White House reported today.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Nixon is making the trip at the President's request. It will be the first direct contact between the vice president and Mr. Eisenhower since the chief executive was stricken with a heart attack almost two weeks ago.

Hagerty said the vice president will fly to Denver in the same plane with Sherman Adams, top presidential assistant; Dr. Dudley White, the famous Boston heart specialist, who is advising on the case, and Maj. John Eisenhower, the President's son.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT was regarded as another of the increasing signs that the chief executive is on the road to recovery. The critical period in Mr. Eisenhower's recovery will end this weekend, and the atmosphere around the chief executive was much more cheerful today as medical bulletins continued to report progress in his recovery.

At 11 a.m., MST, the doctors reported that the President continued to progress "satisfactorily."

Mrs. Eisenhower Still Has Warm Feeling for City

A gracious First Lady of the Land, who captured the hearts of all Villagers when she and President Dwight D. Eisenhower vacationed here two years ago, still retains a warm, friendly feeling for Palm Springs.

Beset now with worries concerning the health of the President, Mrs. Eisenhower still took time to personally answer a message from Mayor Florian Boyd which expressed the deep concern and care of the people of Palm Springs over her husband's heart attack.

The letter no doubt was one of many received.

Her reply, received by Mayor Boyd this morning, follows:

"Thank you for your letter of concern for the President's health. When he is feeling stronger, I will be happy to give him your message. I am sure he will be deeply grateful to you. Mrs. Boyd, and his friends in Palm Springs. (Signed) Mamie Doud Eisenhower."

Work Begun on Space Satellite by Defense Dep't

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Defense Department announced today that "work has begun" on the project to hurl a small artificial satellite into far space to circle the Earth.

The department said that Glenn L. Martin Co., Baltimore, has been awarded the prime contract for "a major part of the project," development of a rocket launching vehicle.

Tampico Still Hard Hit by High Water

Homeless Cling to Rooftops and Fight Off Snakes

Flood waters fell back in Wichita Falls, Texas, today, but there was no stopping the mounting death and horror in Tampico, Mexico.

At Wichita Falls, most of the 500 persons who fled the surging waters of the Wichita River returned to their homes. More rains were expected today, but forecasters said they would have to become extremely heavy to send more floods swirling through the city.

ABOUT 150 CITY BLOCKS were under water at the height of the flood yesterday, but only about 50 of them were in the residential district. The river itself was expected to go back below flood stage today.

But at flood-battered Tampico flood waters held no mercy for an estimated 80,000 homeless persons.

Food supplies were not expected to last more than a day and a half longer and the milling refugees had a new horror to deal with — hordes of poisonous snakes swarming out of the flood waters onto the few remaining patches of dry ground.

REFUGEES HUDDLED on house tops, tore boards loose to fight off the squirming rattlesnakes, coral snakes and water moccasins. Meanwhile, swarms of U.S. Marine and Air Force planes joined in the battle to

Giant Airplane Crashes Into Snow-Covered Mountain in Wyoming, Explodes, Burns

No Signs of Life Around Wrecked Plane is Report of Airplane Spotters; Rescue Teams on Way to Scene of Biggest Tragedy

CHEYENNE, Wyoming (UP)—A United Air Lines four-engine DC4 transport plane enroute from Denver to Salt Lake City smashed into snow-covered 12,005 foot Medicine Bow Peak in Southern Wyoming today apparently killing all 64 persons aboard.

It was the worst commercial airliner crash in the nation's history.

The worst previous occurred January 24, 1950, when 58 were killed in the crash of a Northwest Air Lines DC4 in Lake Michigan.

The big plane reported overdue for more than three hours before its wreckage was spotted shortly before 11 a.m., PST, appeared to have smashed into the towering peak at a 90-degree angle, then exploded and burned.

Pilots of the 44th Air Rescue Squadron who flew over the crash scene said the plane had disintegrated, and that it seemed impossible that any of the 61 passengers and three crew members survived.

Capt. Melvin E. Conine, Cheyenne, co-pilot of a Wyoming Air National Guard F80 jet fighter which first spotted the aircraft's wreckage, said there was a huge burned area around the crash area.

HE SAID HE DOUBTED that anyone could have survived. Conine, whose pilot was Lt. Col. E. R. Weed, also of the Wyoming Air National Guard, said the DC4 apparently

BULLETIN
CHICAGO (UP)—No Palm Springs persons were listed as passengers of the DC4 airliner which crashed against a Wyoming mountain peak today.

The incomplete list released by United Air Lines office here said 19 military personnel were aboard, and names would not be released until next of kin is notified.

smacked into the top of the peak and then slid 200 feet down the sheer rock face of the peak.

Parts of the wrecked plane were strewn over a large area in the deep snow on the mountain.

The burned-over portion could be seen as far away as the small community of Centennial, Wyoming, about 12 miles south of the crash scene. The location is about 35 to 40 miles west of Laramie, Wyoming.

THE WEATHER was clear in the vicinity of the peak but high winds created a dangerous turbulence for planes flying close to the mountain.

The passengers aboard the plane were believed to have included five members of the famed Salt Lake City Mormon Tabernacle Choir returning home from a concert tour of Europe.

They were identified in Salt Lake City as Mrs. Endon C. Schow, Bountiful; and Mrs. Donald A. Kirk, Mrs. B. Ray Seare, Mrs. Charles Smurthwaite and Mrs. Victor J. Beck, all of Salt Lake City.

Four other passengers were reported to be Mrs. Darrell Tucker, Ogden, her 21-month-old daughter, and Mrs. Georgia M. West, Salt Lake City, and her son, Earl.

PARACHUTE MEDICAL teams aboard the first air rescue planes sent to the scene were not allowed to jump to the wreck site.

One Air Force pilot radioed Maj. Marshall Frederickson, commanding officer of the 44th Air Rescue Squadron at Lowry Air Force base, Denver, that "We got in there just as close as we possibly could and still couldn't identify the largest portion of the plane intact."

In San Francisco, United Air Lines identified the three crew members as Capt. C. C. Cooke, 35, Menlo Park, Calif.; First Officer Ralph D. Salisbury, 33, Palo Alto, Calif.; and stewardess Patricia Shuttleworth, 22, Salt Lake City.

AT SALT LAKE CITY, the Airways Traffic Control Center at the Municipal Airport said the plane had enough fuel to last until 9:30 a.m., PST.

A huge air search was immediately mounted from Denver, Cheyenne and Salt Lake City and intermediate points by the Air Force, the Wyoming State Aeronautics Commission and the Civil Air Patrol.

United Air Lines said the plane had not reported in by radio at its customary check point over Rock Springs, Wyo., on its flight to Salt Lake City.

The Air Force said four more planes would be sent into the search immediately.

The plane originated its trip at La Guardia Airport in New York City at 7:10 p.m. EST yesterday, a United Air Lines official here said.

Industrials Turn Soft in Dull N.Y. Stock Dealings

Dow-Jones final stock averages: 30 Industrials 458.19 off 2.95, 20 rails 132.88 off 0.51, 15 utilities 62.80 up 0.14, and 88 stocks 147.61 off 0.60.

Sales today were about 1,600,000 shares compared with 1,920,000 yesterday.

NEW YORK (UP)—Industrial shares turned soft in a dull market today.

The leaders registered losses ranging to more than a point in General Motors and Du Pont.

U. S. Steel declined nearly a point and Texas Company a point. Railroads made a better showing but many of them also declined. Utilities ruled firm.

Trading was the lightest in more than a month.

Some demand developed for the aircrafts shortly before closing, but it failed to generate new buying. Douglas managed to rise more than a point and small gains came into Bendix and North American Aviation. Phillips was strong in the oils, finishing the day with a rise of 2 1/2 points.

The decline wiped out yesterday's gains in most instances.

Scientist Says Russia "Must Have" Super Atomic Bomb

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — An atomic scientist said today that "Russia must have the Super."

He was referring to persistent reports, never officially confirmed, that there was "something extra special" about a series of Soviet nuclear tests revealed by the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission a year ago this month.

By "the Super" this scientist meant the kind of weapon tested by the United States at Bikini in March, 1954. It also has been called the three-F or fission-fusion-fission bomb.

IT ACHIEVED notoriety because, in addition to its destructive power — nearly 1000 times greater than the ordinary A-bomb — it loosed enough radioactive fallout to poison an area of 7000 square miles.

This country maintains a monitoring network which tells it when the Russians stage nuclear tests, the latest of which got under way last Summer and may be still going on.

But the commission seldom specifies the kind of weapons, whether fusion H-bombs or fission-fusion-fission bombs. See RUSSIA, Page 2

Dear Mr. Cameron:

The conversion of the Desert Sun to daily publication will certainly be a thrilling and appropriate climax to the observance of Newspaper Week in that area.

No other single factor so favorably reflects the development of a community than the consistent progress of its newspapers. As California has grown during recent years, so has Palm Springs. A jewel oasis in California's magnificent desert area, your city is a beacon which has helped to attract thousands of visitors and permanent residents to our State from less favored areas.

Mrs. Knight and I have frequently enjoyed the hospitality of the people in the Palm Springs area, and she joins me in wishing you continuing success in your service to them and their community.

Palm Springs Zany Hats Now Getting National Fame

Palm Springs zany hat, originated by Melba Bennett and immortalized by Western Week and Desert Circus Week, bids fair to spread over the nation after its appearance on Peter Lind Hayes hat rack.

Western Week Chairman Anita Haskell Jones conceived the idea of sending one of the hats to Hayes, along with an explanatory telegram.

Hayes was wearing another quaint headgear, a Dublin policeman's hat, when he read the following telegram on his Wednesday program.

"Graham Alexander, local CBS radio announcer, suggested we air express you the famous

President Receives Trophy from Newspaper Carriers

DENVER (UP)—President Eisenhower's youthful industry as a newspaper boy has been memorialized by a 30-inch tall trophy, presented to him by 600,000 newspaper carriers in the United States and Canada.

Leonard Walmsley, 14, a newsboy for the Rocky Mountain News, and Gerald Rothmeyer, 16, carrier for the Denver Post, brought the trophy to the temporary White House headquarters at Lowry Air Force Base yesterday.

Mr. Eisenhower, who is recuperating at Fitzsimons Army Hospital from a heart attack, was not able to receive the trophy personally. Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty did so in his stead, and promised to take it to the chief executive's hospital suite.

The trophy is made of Oregon Myrtlewood and bronze. At the top is a figure of a carrier boy with a stack of newspapers. Below this figure are the words: "Great Because He Is Good."

The base is inscribed: "Yesterday's newspaper boy—Today's Leader."

A bronze etching of the President is fixed to the midsection of the trophy. Two small figures of newsboys are attached to the base, flanking the etching of the President.

The presentation was made in concurrence with the 1955 National Newspaper Boy's Day, October 8.

Juveniles to Learn Facts About Laws

Three lessons are going to be learned by about eight Village youngsters:

First, respect other people's property (especially when it is the police department's).

Second, never play with live ammunition, or ammunition of any kind.

And, third, damage done has to be paid for out of allowance money.

The youngsters are believed to have entered the police department storage house at the pistol range, scattered primers around, and took home with them target ammunition and .45 caliber shells.

Police received word of the action from one of the mothers, who told of her son coming home with the shells. A check revealed the source.

The youngsters claimed that the storage house was open when they arrived at the scene.

When using an extension ladder, set the base out from your house about one-fourth the distance of the ladder's vertical height as it rests against the house.

I make it sound complicated but it really isn't. In the sketch below, if distance A is 16 feet, distance B should be approximately 4 feet. Experts say this 4-to-1 ratio is best for safety and working comfort.

1/4 teaspoon salt

Hint for Husbands

When using an extension ladder, set the base out from your house about one-fourth the distance of the ladder's vertical height as it rests against the house.

I make it sound complicated but it really isn't. In the sketch below, if distance A is 16 feet, distance B should be approximately 4 feet. Experts say this 4-to-1 ratio is best for safety and working comfort.

Square Dancing Season to Start on Monday Night

Square dances will be inaugurated here for the fifth consecutive season on Monday night, sponsored by the city recreation department. Director Howard Haddock announced today.

Dances will be held each Monday evening at the Frances Stevens school auditorium, from 8:30 to 11 p.m. Admission is by donation.

A three-piece square dance band will provide music for dancing the opening night.

Osa Matthews, well known square dance caller, again will be in charge of the dances. Classes for beginners will be conducted from 7:30 to 8:30, prior to the regular dances.

Haddock urged every interested person to attend, pointing out that continuance of the program depends on the support given it.

CVAPC Changes Date of Meetings

Coachella Valley Advisory Planning Committee has changed the date of its regular monthly meetings from the fourth Wednesday of the month to the fourth Monday.

Action was taken after Vice President Ted Smith reported that some groups are unable to attend the Wednesday night sessions.

This is the first change in meeting dates since the group was organized in 1946.

County Department of Building Grows

Expansion of the County Building Department went into effect Saturday, October 1, when the staff was increased approximately 20 per cent.

Approved by supervisors, the change creates two new offices in the department, that of plumbing inspector and building inspector.

Supervisors to Speed Up Bond Election Program

Concerted effort to expedite an election schedule regarding the multi-million dollar county building program bond issue is being made by two county supervisors, Homer Varner, fourth district, and Paul Anderson, second district. Both Varner and Anderson went on record as saying the special general election should be set as early as possible in 1956.

The election, at first hoped to be an instrument to handle both the bond issue and a county charter, has been bogged down by the latter, and they will be held separately in order to keep one from slowing the other.

The Arlington General Hospital was not covered in the program as outlined by the County Buildings Commission's over-all $4,300,000 project. A separate report is in process, and had retarded the setting of an election date.

Both supervisors spoke highly of the efforts of Dr. Benjamin Goldberg of Palm Springs, foreman of the County Grand Jury, whose report on the General Hospital may save sion A-bombs, the Russians are testing. And it has never come right out and said whether there even is such a thing as the "Super" of whatever nationality.

Whether the Russians tested a super H-bomb last fall undoubtedly is known to this country if it was made anything like the U. S. Bikini bomb. Japanese scientists who analyzed fallout particles from the American weapon tipped off its apparent three-phase nature.

Their reports indicated it consisted of an atomic trigger, a fusion charge, and a jacket of normally inert uranium-238 fissioned by the fusion reaction.

IN ANY EVENT, the Russians have been testing nuclear weapons since 1949. Starting with a single-shot test program they have worked up in recent years to elaborate test series comparable, informed sources have said, to the multi-shot U. S. programs.

It is impossible to keep a precise score because the AEC does not announce each individual shot of a series. The best guess appears to be that the Russians have set off between 20 and 30 nuclear explosions. The U. S. score is at least 65.

THE NUMBER of weapons in the American nuclear stockpile has never been officially disclosed. Close observers of the atomic project reckon the total at a fat five figures. They guess the Russian at four figures.

AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss refused recently to discuss the significance of the latest Soviet test series, which started in late July or early August and was still going on as recently as September 24. He said only that presumably the Russians were aiming at "improvement of their weapons stockpile."

But U. S. officials have learned to credit Russia with being scientifically on an atomic par with this country. As the Bel-entist said, "Russia must have the super."

This is Newspaper Week, an annual occasion. In other years editors have been prone to celebrate the festival with proud or complacent remarks about their trade.

This year there is less complacency, if not less pride. The national newspaper circulation is still increasing, but it is not keeping pace with the growth of population. Moreover, production costs rise in a spiral that never stops twisting, and some great and famous newspapers are having financial troubles.

On the basis of actuarial tables, outside critics of newspapers have been holding a premature Hallowe'en. On the intellectual side, they allege that the newspapers are suffering because they fail to print the news, that they are engaged in an informal conspiracy to be a one-party press.

On the practical side, they say that the newspapers have lost their brash creativity. When they speak this way they seem to assume that a newspaper plant is a sort of novelty manufacturing shop which could stimulate sales by producing a new line of gewgaws every year.

This is not an occasion to argue with the critics, although we do not listen to them complacently or challenge their qualifications to criticize. Occasionally they are right, but they are wrong more often. American newspapers fall far short of the ideal, nevertheless they are better newspapers on the whole than can be found anywhere else in the world.

American newspapers, even in their shabbiest days, have never forgotten their simple primary function, which is to publish the available news. Their history has been the elaboration of the means of extending the reach of their reporters around the world and of developing the techniques for printing what the reporters report.

The other things newspapers do are secondary to presenting the news. The entertainments they provide, intellectual or popular (or both together), from columns to comic strips, help to round out the readership which newspapers are everlastingly seeking to expand, but they are auxiliary to the news columns. The more successful papers are usually the ones with the most straight reporting — the ones that aim to inform first, before they entertain or interpret.

America has not been without a newspaper more or less regularly issued for more than 200 years. We can't believe that the fluctuations of the economic chart will affect drastically the great republic of newspapers as it now exists. No other medium of communication is capable, economically, of building the vast information-gathering network which is the joint creation of all newspapers in the United States.

The thought for Newspaper Week follows from this: That the newspapers will last as long as they can find the means to gather the news and print it. Finding the means may sometimes be a problem, but newspapermen are born to have problems. Those who choose to sleep on the fat lap of security don't choose newspapering.

NEEDED CITY IMPROVEMENTS—Yesterday I discussed the need for an 18-hole municipal golf course in Palm Springs, and stated that I believed it to be the most important item on the list of public improvements under consideration by the city council for submission to the voters at a bond issue election next February. It is somewhat difficult to compare the usual improvement needs of a city with a municipal golf course. The golf course is in such a different category that it needs to be looked upon in an entirely different light; nevertheless, I feel it heads the list in importance.

The other improvement projects under consideration by the council are those encountered by any growing city like Palm Springs. I would like to discuss two of them today. They are: Expansion of the sewer system at a cost of $1,500,000, and construction of a Tachavah flood control storm drain at a cost of $100,000. Many residents believe that extension of the sewerage system is one of this community's greatest needs. A sewerage system is now provided for only one and one-half square mile area in the business district. The balance of the city depends entirely on cesspools and septic tanks. It is proposed that the system be extended with the construction of a trunk-line system for all major streets, and to make the necessary plant expansion. The cost of cesspools and septic tanks and their maintenance places a burden upon home owners, and, of course, is not as sanitary as a sewer system.

All residents familiar with the serious condition brought about in flood periods on Palm Canyon Drive and Indian Avenue in the vicinity of Alejo Road will approve of the proposal to construct underground storm drains for the elimination of this menace. This project would also make possible the future construction of Alejo Road from Palm Canyon Drive to Sunrise, an important link between these two thoroughfares. Cost of this proposed project would be $100,000.

It seems quite likely that the voters will approve of both of these improvements without much question. As I have pointed out previously, the city council has wisely adopted the plan whereby each proposed improvement can be approved separately by the voters.

FEEL LIKE LOAFING along the highways? Ambling along and looking at the scenery when, and if, there are no billboards to hide the view? Then stick to the right side of the road when on a multilane highway. A new state law which went into effect last month provides a fine for driving in the left lane at a slow speed and impeding traffic. Driving in the middle of the road at a slow pace causes other drivers to weave in and out and is productive of accidents. In other words, you can cause as much damage by driving too slowly as by moving too swiftly. Only you cause it to happen to the other guy. Which may be all right for you and the mortician but not for him. And while on the subject of drivers—saw a foolish one the other day. Northbound on Palm Canyon drive he wanted to get around the car ahead of him and cut over on the left shoulder at the right. He left a cloud of dust which stretched from Mesquite to Avenida Palmera.

POLICE GIRDLED for the jungle trail the other day when they received a call that a large, black animal, resembling a panther, had just jumped a seven-foot gate at the informant's residence. Police rushed to the scene and found a big black cat with a baleful gleam in his eyes. And among his duties of the local force this week was the rescue of a janitor. He called police to come to a local market and let him out. He was locked in. Adding to police problems, is a rock crusher operating entirely legitimately on Highway 111 near Highway 99. It has produced several excited calls to police within the past few weeks that "a plane has crashed and is burning."

SPEAKING OF FRUSTRATION—I had it a week ago Sunday morning. For two or three weeks I had been looking forward to the dawn of Sunday, September 25. Figured that then I would have one extra hour of sleep due to the departure of Daylight Time and the return of Standard Time. Changed all of the clocks and watches back an hour Saturday night, practiced a few Bronx cheers to throw at sunrise the next morning and went to bed. Came the dawn. And some weekend guests in a neighboring house who were paying $15 a day, decided they had to have their money's worth. Got up 6:15 PST and started noisily cavorting. May be they forgot about it being Standard Time again. I had to. And got up. Well, next year there'll be a similar occasion and maybe I can get in two extra hours to make up for it.

And, as the man said, a fat woman wearing slacks attracts widespread attention.

The coronary blood vessels cover the top of the heart, dividing into a left and right branch. They supply blood, which is the fuel or nourishment to the heart muscle. They are terminal blood vessels. That is, they enter the heart muscle and gradually decrease in size as they pass through the heart, until they finally terminate as capillaries, which are the finest and smallest of vessels. Each branch of the coronary blood vessel system supplies one definite area of the heart with very little nourishment coming from the adjacent branches.

Washington Report

By Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON.—The term of the Supreme Court that began Monday may be the last for nearly half of its august members.

Four of the nine Justices will be eligible to retire in 1956. One is virtually certain to do so, and two others are seriously considering it.

Never before have so many Supreme Court Justices been eligible to retire at one time. Federal judges now can quit the bench, with full pay, at 65, after 15 years' service.

The four "old men" who may shed their black robes are:

Justice Sherman Minton, who will be 66 and complete 15 years on the bench, eight of them on the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals, to which he was appointed by President Roosevelt. Minton, one-time Senator from Indiana who was elevated to the Supreme Court by President Truman, is in poor health and frankly looking forward to private life.

Justice Hugo Black, who will be 70 and have 19 years on the Supreme Court. The former Alabama senator, first of the militant New Dealers named to the tribunal, by Roosevelt, has had several operations in the last few years, and on occasion talks about retiring.

Justice Stanley Reed, who will be 72 and have 18 years on the bench, to which he was named by Roosevelt in January, 1938, four months after Black's appointment. A Kentuckian who first came to Washington in 1929 as General Counsel of President Hoover's newly-created Federal Farm Board, Reed was gravely ill several years ago and lives largely on rice and a severely restricted non-fat diet.

Justice Felix Frankfurter, 74 and the oldest member of the court, on which he has served since his appointment by Roosevelt in January, 1939. Long a busy backstage "wheel-and-dealer" in non-court affairs, Frankfurter has slowed down appreciably in the past year, and has surprised friends with hints about retiring. Previously he had asserted his intention of emulating the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, who continued an active jurist until 90.

Federal judges are appointed for life, and even after retiring can return to the bench for special assignments if they care to accept them. Under the Constitution their pay can never be cut, but may be increased. The last Congress voted sizeable raises for all federal judges.

Note: There is a particular reason why Chief Justice Warren's decisions are brief and direct to the point. He explained it to a California friend, who commended them on that special score. "I purposely keep my opinions concise. That is a policy of mine, and I believe it is a sound one," said Warren, and then added smilingly "You see, for one thing, the shorter they are, the less there is for critics to find fault with."

NEW WORD — Ever hear of "infrastructure"? The chances are very strong you haven't, unless you are connected with the Foreign Aid program. It is a new word growing out of this vast military and economic activity.

Representative Walter Judd (R. Minn.), leading member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, popped the curious term on a group of colleagues, who promptly asked for an explanation. Following is what Judd told them:

"Infrastructure" is a word that was coined in recent years in Europe. It may be a derivative from a French expression; I don't know about that. But it applies to the numerous projects we are building and maintaining over there, such as our air bases. We have many of them in France. Infrastructure also covers the improvement of ports and the construction of oil pipelines from them to these air bases. All these things are called "infrastructure," the foundation that supports the U. S. Air Force in Western Europe.

"Does Webster know about that," asked Representative George Miller (D. Calif.).

"No," he doesn't," replied Judd. "Mr. Webster compiled

It Happened Last Night

NEW YORK — Victor Borge was saluted with a Happy Birthday speech by Ed Sullivan at the Golden when he launched the third year of his fabulous, one-man show by serving champagne to everybody at the intermission.

As Sullivan left the footlights, Borge asked the audience, "Who was that gentleman?"

The mad Dane was never funnier. While playing Liszt's "Liebestraum," he suddenly said, "I still can't understand why Jimmy Roosevelt signed that letter." After he blew out the candles on the birthday cake, they suddenly flamed up again—and again—and again—a trick now available at magic stores.

Borge also played around with a watch "guaranteed for life—not yours—its," he said.

The Jack Benny's hope the rift between dtr. Joan and young broker Seth Baker—who were married in a spectacular wedding—can be patched up. He's around N.Y. Joan's been visiting San Francisco, and the Bennys are taking care of their granddaughter.

A wild rumor says two NY Yankees residents Leo Durocher and pleaded with him to tell them the Dodgers' batting weaknesses man by man. (He mustn't have told 'em everything.)

The Little Club's Billy Reed reports a new sure-fire diet sweeping Cafe Soulecity: consisting of only one food: straight Scotch.

Gretchen Wyler, the dancin' darlin' of "Silk Stockings," turns out to be a poetess. Interviewing her in her dressing room 3 months ago, I left her hat. She just returned it with the following poem in long-hand:

"I potted a plant, held punch at soirees,
Even wore it myself on rainy days,
But may I'll return it,
She's mad 'cause I used it to mix mayonnaise."

Young Comedian Buddy Hackett was a sensation at the Lambs Seidel Night, particularly when explaining the difficulties he had in Hollywood. "There's nothing for a young actor to do in Hollywood after 10 o'clock but go to a drive-in," he said, "and it's very embarrassing to go to a drive-in alone, especially when you don't have a car."

Russ Brown (he plays the mgr. i) "Damn Yankees" reminiscent) about the great effort of Duffy & Sweeney which folded spectacularly in New Orleans after a performance which didn't get a snicker, a laugh or a murmur of applause. Duffy came out on stage and told the audience, "I want to thank you for your warm reception of our act, and if you will all just remain in your seats, my partner will pass among you and beat hell out of you with a baseball bat."

Jane Russell was sitting unconcernedly in her upstairs dressing room at CBS the other night while Jackie Gleason was stalling in front of millions of viewers waiting for her to come on stage for "Stage Show." When frantic couriers told her she was due on stage, Jane exclaimed, "You mean the show is on already?" Nobody'd told her.

The TV world is crazy. A top ad man confessed he doesn't look at a Saturday TV show his client pays millions for. "I just buy 'em," he says, "then I look at the ratings Monday morning."

Frank Sinatra has a music firm, the Barton Music Co., run by Ben Barton, father of singer Eileen Barton. Recently Frank was urged to record "Learning the Blues," written by Dolores Vickie Silvers, a Philadelphia gal supposed to resemble both Marilyn Monroe and Ava Gardner. Frank decided to record the number and it's a big hit.

"By the way, who owns this song?" Frank asked later. "You do," replied Barton. "I do," said Frank. "Yep," said Barton, "the Barton Music Co. bought it from the gal before we asked you to record it."

Dick Haymes (in good voice on Jackie Gleason's opener) was host to three gents at El Morocco and acted happy... Trumpeter Leonard Sues got his final divorce from Chantelle Martha King... Nancy Berg stated flatly that she'd rather have a rat than what she's got than what Darnay's got.

John Huston wanted to direct Mike Todd's "Around the World in 80 Days," but Mike said, "I don't want any more pictures." ... Marion Marlowe will gross $20,000 on her first year away from A. Godfrey... Marion Brand's long-distancing Genevieve Chavis at the local restaurant where she's a waitress... Claire Fitzpatrick is a finalist for title of "Queen of Screen Publicists" Guild's Movie Pageant... Publicity firm will handle any account—except fighters... El Morocco duo: Joan Collins and Arthur Lowe Jr. ... The Bill Veckes are expecting again... Tax men will grab a chunk of the loot Byron Welles will get for CBS-TV spectacles... Oona Chaplin left Charlie in Switzerland and went off to San Remo, Italy.

The Voice of Broadway

The operation performed on Jerry Ross was more drastic than expected. One lung was removed... Actress Dorothy McGuire has moved out of her home into a hotel, but not because of domestic difficulties. She's absorbed in the new movie she's making, "Friendly Persuasion" and wants to "give every minute to concentrating"...

The tank in which Esther Williams took her TV dip on the Beale show cost NBC a splashy $25,000.

A cigar firm is noodling around with the idea of putting out a lady's type stogie (whatever that is) and calling it "A Nancy Berg"...

On the eve of sailing for Europe, Rita Hayworth refused the pleas of close friends that she talk to Dick Haymes just once more. There's not a chance of reconciliation.

Kim Stanley spent the first week of her vacation from "Bus Stop" nursing her children, who came down with strep throats... TV casting agents are complaining bitterly about the stratospheric salaries actors are demanding and getting on dramatic shows. They're begging the network press agents to soft pedal stories about the fabulous fees paid to stars, especially on the spectacles. And it's against any good ballyhooer's best instincts to play down the fat pay checks, because they're newsworthy.

As soon as Bill Haley fired three members of his Comets group, the obvious happened. The boys organized their own outfit and immediately were signed by Capitol... A national magazine has assigned Steve Allen to write a piece—"both scholarly and informal"—analyzing television audiences.

Odd Behavior Department: John Ireland, who is planning to open on Broadway in a new play and has been interviewed by half the drama writers in town, refused to permit the camera girl to take his picture in the Stork Club the other night... Patrice Munsel's cafe act at the New Frontier in Las Vegas will cost her more than $25,000 in arrangements, gimmicks and wardrobe. Sample item: one pair of jeweled pants at $1,500.

McKenzie Liquor Bribery Case Goes to Jury Today

The liquor license bribery trial of former tri-county liquor control officer Harold E. McKenzie, 52, was expected to go to a jury in Riverside County Superior Court today.

The prosecution delivered its final arguments yesterday. The defense was expected to complete its arguments today.

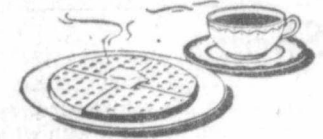

The former Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino county liquor chief is charged with accepting two bribes totaling $10,000 in late 1952 from two Palm Springs bar operators.

McKenzie was cross-examined yesterday about an alleged conversation in his car with chief prosecution witness Elsie Mickey Jones. The state charges Mrs. Jones collected payoffs for McKenzie.

Harry Cooper, investigator for the attorney general's office, told of overhearing talk about a bribe between McKenzie and Mrs. Jones while hiding in the trunk of the car.

Playhouse Addition Cannot Exceed $6000

Police Checking New Method of Defrauding Hotel

A new style of leaving town after defrauding an innkeeper was reported to police Tuesday by Bill Foldes, 257 North Palm Canyon Drive.

Two men left in the early morning hours after spending the night at the Palm Springs Hotel, went to the airport and departed from the city in their private plane.

The suspects are believed to have been from Sulphur Springs, Texas, for they made a long distance phone call there which they charged to their bill.

Adding insult to injury, they also took a towel, Foldes said.

Sanderson Joins Sahara Terrace

Joe Sanderson, a member of the sales staff for Sahara Terrace at Rancho Mirage, is one of the first college graduates prepared to enter the real estate field, according to Ronald Button Sahara Terrace developer.

Sanderson graduated from the University of Southern California last June with a B. S. degree and a major in marketing.

Last week Sanderson sold a Sahara Terrace home to Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Schwab. He is vice-president of the Brunswick Drug company of Los Angeles. The home was one of the models in Button's new Sahara Terrace subdivision where 67 homes have been completed and 50 more will soon be under construction.

Lincoln-Mercury Goes Into Second Year in High Gear

Palm Springs Lincoln Mercury wades into its second season under the ownership guidance of Al Sirott and his partner, Paul Smolker, riding on the crest of a 200-per cent sales increase wave over last year's volume.

According to Leo Athans, the friendly, quiet general manager who knows the figures and betrays his enthusiasm with flame in his eyes, the agency, at the corner of Sunny Dunes Road and South Palm Canyon Drive, sells an average of 20 to 30 new cars and about 10 more used cars each month, as compared with about seven or eight new cars a year ago.

Sirott lives with his wife and son, Mark, a football player at the High School, at 1044 Calle Rolph, while the plans and arrangements to break ground for his new home at Mesquite and Driftwood are completed. He expects work to begin within the month.

After taking over the dealership in the last week of September, 1954, Sirott instigated a policy which Athans describes as "utilizing progressive business techniques to realize the full potential of this small agency."

Athans said the dealership has enlarged in personnel count, and the men are now better trained than they were last year. Movies on sales and service methods, proven by the men who run the Ford

Cafe Equipment, Tools Taken by Burglars Here

Two burglaries were reported to police Tuesday, one involving Del Tahquitz Hotel, 316 South Palm Canyon Drive, and the other DeSoto-Plymouth Agency at 682 South Palm Canyon Drive.

The cabinet by the lubrication rack at Bill Ellis' agency was forced open, and tools taken. The burglary was discovered by the Charles Valentino Agency.

At Del Tahquitz, Owner Nate Maniloff said that a large amount of restaurant equipment was stolen. Included in items missing were six to seven dozen glasses, 14 dozen of various pieces of silverware, eight dozen saucers, butcher knives, cleaver and approximately two dozen uniforms.

Entry was made by smashing a bolt on a swinging door. Malicious mischief, turning off the electricity to the restaurant deep freeze, was also reported by Maniloff.

City council Tuesday tabled until its October 18 meeting a request for establishment of a duplicate bridge studio, until parking requirements could be determined for such an operation.

Ants Blamed for Trouble Fouling Up Traffic Signals

LOS ANGELES (UP)—A recent epidemic of traffic signal troubles in the San Fernando Valley, which baffled both motorists and traffic authorities, was blamed today on ants.

The city Traffic Department disclosed yesterday that short circuits in valley traffic signals were traced to thousands of the insects which eat through plastic insulation on wires.

Traffic Department General Manager Lloyd Braff said a checkup showed large red ants of the soldier species had been getting into wire-connector boxes buried near signals.

He said the ants ate the plastic insulation from the control wires, causing the wires to touch each other and create shorts.

Braff said the ants would be fought with a powerful poison placed around 1,000 signal control boxes in the valley.

Around two hundred parents and teachers attended the Cahulla P-TA's annual "Get Acquainted" Party held Tuesday evening in Tamarisk Park.

A chuckwagon potluck of hamburgers, chili beans, salads, cake and coffee and cold drinks was served buffet style, with Mrs. W. A. MacKinnon in charge. Long tables were set up on the grassy lawns under the palm trees and a big moon hung overhead in the night sky.

P-TA president Mrs. Robert Backstrom welcomed the assemblage and introduced Cahulla School Principal Brad Davis, who in turn introduced the faculty and honored guests Supt. Wallace Muelder, and Mrs. Alma Gilbert, who was Cahulla's principal for so many years.

Mrs. Backstrom also reminded the group that the P-TA membership drive will wind up tomorrow.

Adding color to the park scene and entertainment to the evening was the appearance of a square dancing group.

Hutchinson to Quit Rainiers for Cardinals

Seattle Writer
Says PCL Winner
to Head St. Louis

Freddie Hutchinson, manager of the pennant-winning Seattle Rainiers who train in Palm Springs each Spring, will not be with the club at the Polo Grounds next year, according to Royal Brougham, sports writer for the Seattle Post-Intelligencer in a story today.

Hutchinson will be named the new manager of the St. Louis National League Cardinals, Brougham said in a front page story.

He said that it has been known for some time that Hutchinson is the No. 1 choice of Frank Lane, former general manager of the Chicago White Sox, who is slated to take over as general manager of the Cardinals today. Dewey Soriano, general manager of the Seattle club, declined to discuss the matter.

"THAT IS A MATTER between Fred and the St. Louis club," he said. "If the report is true that he is going, I'm glad for Hutch but I'm sad for us."

Emil Sick, president of the Seattle club, said Hutchinson has a contract which still has two years to run. However, he has stated he would not hold Hutchinson to those terms should the former Detroit manager and pitching standout land a major league post.

BROUGHAM PREDICTED Hutchinson would sign a contract to boss the Cardinals sometime next week. He said the only things standing in the way were contract terms and that Lane would have to convince August Busch, Cardinal owner, of Hutchinson's managerial ability. Hutchinson managed Detroit in 1954, but did not sign the following year because he was offered only a one-year pact.

If named as Cardinal manager, Hutchinson would succeed Harry Walker.

Rigney Becomes Giant Manager

NEW YORK (UP) — Skinny Billy Rigney makes his official debut as manager of the New York Giants today, but last year's world champions already have started their rebuilding program.

They began by calling up seven players from their farm system, including the "most valuable player" in the Texas League—and by trading Rance Pless, "most valuable player" in the American Association, to the Kansas City Athletics for first baseman Don Bollweg and $35,000.

Rigney, who managed Minneapolis to the Little World Series championship, was expected to announce the names of his coaches late today. Reportedly, Ray Mueller, former major league catcher who was a coach under Rigney at Minneapolis, has an inside track for one of these jobs.

The big batch of players called up by the Giants included four catchers. One of the backstops is Ray Murray, 35-year-old former major leaguer who was named the "most valuable player" in the Texas League.

Shrine Game Already Sold Out for Jan. 1.

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Every seat for the Shrine East-West football game next New Year's Day has been sold, according to managing director William M. Coffman.

All 61,000 seats are gone for the fastest sellout in the 31 year history of the game. "Coffman said. "There is no point in anyone sending in orders now because we'll just have to mail the money back."

HERE'S NEW GIANT MANAGER

The new manager, a former all-around infield star with the Giants, has been manager of the Minneapolis club. Rigney, a native of Alameda, Calif., is 35 years old and began his career at Spokane in 1938, joining the Giants in 1946.

Trojans Drill on Passing

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Continued emphasis on passing in long, bruising offensive drills indicated today Coach Jess Hill expects Southern California to do more passing against Washington than in the Trojans' first three games.

Halfbacks Jon Arnett and Ernie Zampese were doing most of the hurling yesterday from the single wing. When SC switches to the T, quarterbacks Jim Contratto and Ellsworth Kissinger do the passing. Hill said team co-captain Marvin Goux, who has been sidelined while recovering from a back injury, may see action on defense Saturday in Seattle against the Huskies.

Villagers Really Spinning Yarns About Fishing

Ozzie Accord, manager of the French Bootie, in the Center, and his son, Ray, caught nine sailfish to climax several days of fishing in Mexican waters during their three-week trip this Summer.

The elder Accord decided to accompany his son on a selling trip through the Pacific Southwest on behalf of the furniture company where he works in Hawthorne.

They traveled through Arizona at New Mexico, and then to Nogales, Mexico. They continued south, hoping to get a chance at some lion hunting and deep sea fishing. At Guaymas, Sonora, they found that guns and ammunition were illegal in the country without permits, and that permits were almost impossible to get. They settled for fishing, and the last day's catch made the sacrifice seem worthwhile.

Accord, who has been in business in Palm Springs 25 years, watched while his son did the lion's share of the fishing, but he was able to snag and keep a few big ones.

While in Guaymas, Accord said, they stayed at the Hotel Playa de Cortes. They returned home ten days after the completion of the fishing junket.

Seals May Quit San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Damon Miller, president of the San Francisco Seals, said today the club may have to move down to the peninsula yet because of its troubles at Seals Stadium.

Miller was checked on two fronts yesterday in his efforts to keep the club in San Francisco and in sound financial condition.

Indians Open League Season Here Tomorrow

The Palm Springs High School football team, the Indians, are set to clash tomorrow night with Elsinore High School's Tigers in the first of seven Riverside County League games scheduled this season.

As in tomorrow's spectacle, to be played at the football field at the high school, all games will kick off at 8 p.m. Ballagh's team will play three of their games here.

The rest of the Indians' scheduled opponents are: November 4, Perris here; November 11, Beaumont there; and November 18, San Jacinto there.

Bruins Limber Up for Beavers

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Coach Henry Red Sanders had his UCLA Bruins go through light limbering up drills today in preparation for their Pacific Coast Conference game tomorrow night against Oregon State in Memorial Coliseum.

The Beavers are scheduled to arrive here by plane tonight at 7:15 p.m., and will stay overnight in a Santa Monica hotel. The Bruins worked on defense yesterday against spread formations and OSC pass patterns in a rugged, two-hour drill.

Prothro Believes Jinx to Vanish

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UP) — Coach Tommy Prothro of the Oregon State Beavers thinks his squad will break the Los Angeles Coliseum jinx when it tangles with the UCLA Bruins tomorrow night.

The Coliseum has a reputation for casting a sinister spell over teams of the Northern Division, but Prothro—former assistant to UCLA mentor Red Sanders—thinks he has it whipped.
